Art Unit: 3731

Claims 16-22, 28 and 30-43 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention and species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on July 9, 2007.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 7-12, 15, 23-25, 27 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Gimpelson (5,98,534). Gimpelson discloses base 24, arms 12 and arm closing element 44. Alternatively, it would have been obvious that member 24 is a base since it supports the other elements. As to claim 2, Gimpelson discloses arm lock element 50. As to claim 3, Gimpelson discloses device lock 64. As to claim 11, Gimpelson discloses guide rods 52.

Claims 4-6, 13, 14 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gimpelson (5,98,534). As to claims 4, 5 and 13, Gimpelson fails to disclose resilient elements. However, it is old and well known in this art to use resilient elements in order to obtain the advantage of urging parts into a desired position. It would have been obvious to include resilient elements in the Gimpelson device so that it too would have this advantage. As to claim 6, Gimpelson fails to disclose the device lock as comprising first and second eccentric rings. However, it is old and well known in this art to so construct device locks in order to obtain the advantage of quickly and positively locking a member in place. It would have been obvious to so construct the Gimpelson device lock so that it too would have this advantage. As to claim 14, Gimpelson fails to disclose the base as being formed of two separate halves. However, it is old and well known in this art to so construct devices in order to obtain the advantage of easily manufacturing them. It would have been obvious to so construct the Gimpelson base so that it too would have this advantage. As to claim 26, Gimpelson fails to disclose a wire loop. However, it is old and well known in this art to use a wire loop in order to obtain the advantage of improving the grasping of tissue. It would have been obvious to include a wire loop with Gimpelson device so that it too would have this advantage.
